To Strengthen the Nerves

MAKE NERVE FORCE FROM RICH, RED BLOOD, AND BISH DISEASES OF NERVES WITH

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

Nerve force, like electricity, is hard to explain. One thing is certain. Nerve force can only be created from rich, red blood.

Make the blood bright and you cure diseases of the nerves, such as headache, indigestion, sleeplessness, irritability, weakness of the bodily organs, prostration and partial paralysis.

This is the only way actual cure can possibly be brought about and because Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is a great blood builder, it accomplishes wonderful results in the cure of diseases of the nerves.

Mrs. Norman, P. Sullivan street, Halifax, N. S., writes:—

"My daughter was troubled last spring and summer with tired, listless feelings. She seemed to have no energy, was very pale, had no appetite, and became very nervous and weak. We were much alarmed about her, as nothing seemed to do her any good. It was not long, however, after beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food until we began to see a marked improvement in her condition. Her color got better, she gained in weight and vigor, and her whole system seemed to be built up. She is quite well now, and we join in strongly recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

The old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is nowhere so applicable as in the case of the nerves, and there was never so effective a preventive as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is being proven every day in thousands of cases.

Rickle's "Anti-Consumption" Syrup is the result of expert chemical experiments, undertaken to discover a preventive of inflammation of the lungs and consumption, by destroying the germs that develop these diseases, and fill the world with pitiable subjects long-tossled stricken. The use of this Syrup will prevent the dire consequences of neglected Colds. A trial, which costs only 25 cents, will convince you that this is correct.

Of the 62,453 Chinese admitted into the Transvaal, only 17,000 are still in the country.

* LITTLE LIVES LOST HOW TO SAVE THEM *

* The annual report of the Registrar-General for Ontario shows that for every hundred children born, one hundred and eleven die before they reach the age of one year. Most of these deaths are due to disorders of the stomach and bowels, and most of these little ones could be saved if mothers kept always at hand a safe and simple remedy like Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets cure all stomach and bowel troubles, but better still an occasional dose will prevent these troubles coming on. Mrs. N. Shaffer, The Brook, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and always find them satisfactory. I feel that my little ones are safe so long as I have this medicine in the house." Sold by mail at 25 cents a box from "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Put It Delicately.
Frank S. Lahn, the father of Lieut. Lahn, the champion balloonist, had a twenty-minute sail in Wilbur Wright's aeroplane at Le Mans last month. In Paris afterwards he talked of aviation.

"The sensation of flying," he said, "is like that of sailing in a very swift steamer, without any vibration or rolling, over a sea perfectly smooth."

"I was very lucky to go up," Mr. Wright said, "and I received applications for flights. He has to refuse 99 in 100, but his refusals are put delicately. They are as delicate as the young husband's dismissal of his wife's mother."

"This lady had been visiting at the known house steadily seven months. On toward Christmas time she said to him:—

Small but Potent.—Parnelle's Vegetable Pills are small, but they are effective in action. They find a niche as a corrector of stomach troubles are known to thousands and they are in constant demand everywhere by those who know what a safe and simple remedy they are. They need no introduction to those acquainted with them, but to those who may not know them they are presented as the best preparation on the market for disorders of the stomach.

"George," asked Mrs. Ferguson, "how do you like the chop sugar?"

"First rate, Laura," answered Mr. Ferguson. "I didn't know you could make it. I was afraid you were going to let a third warning over the Christmas turkey. By the way, I hope there's nothing left of that turkey now—its skin's gone."

HOBBY CLUB.

All Loves of Hobbies, Including Spook Hunters, to Be Eligible.

Viscount Molewouth and the Hon. George Scott have put up a novel idea for a club which will be called the Hobby Club, according to a London cable dispatch. Men will be admitted as members and women as associates on condition that they have hobbies, are amateurs so far as the club is concerned, and possess the ordinary requisites comprised in the term clubbable. The club will cater for a wide variety of hobbies, from gardening to card-collecting and even psychical research, which at this hour seems to have received the proper classification.

An extensive library will be formed, and intellectual experts will be held, at which men and women of similar tastes may confer. Experts have been engaged to give lectures and advice on various topics. The club has already got an influential committee and is receiving hearty support from, among others, Lord Avebury, who is a keen advocate of hobbies.

In review of the subject Lord Avebury says: "Those who have not tried it can hardly imagine how much a hobby adds to the interest and variety of life. Take science, for example. It is in endless aspect as wonderful as a fairy tale. My own taste has led me mainly to natural history and archaeology, but how grand are some other hobbies, such as astronomy and botany. Every one ought to have a hobby. It occupies drives away care and all the small troubles of life, and besides, a hobby brings the best kind of rest."

THE CONSCIENTIOUS SCOT.

He Had Scruples About Not Respecting the Sabbath.

A commercial traveling man landed at Edinburgh, Scotland, one Saturday night too late to get out of town for Sunday. The manager found that there was actually no form of amusement in the whole city to assist him in whiling away the day. He went to the proprietor of the hotel to see if he could suggest a way of passing the remainder of the day.

The landlord took pity on the stranger and took him to one of the rooms in the house in which a number of Scotchmen were playing a game called "nap," which is a sort of modification of "seven up." They were playing for a large sum of money, and the game was a pretty stiff one. The stranger got in the game and played very cautiously, for he was quite sure that the players, or at least some of them, were cheating. One solemn faced Scot, he was especially sure, was playing a number of times. The visitor began whistling a part of some vagrant tune. The Scot, who had been playing, arose from the table and threw down the cards.

"What's the matter?" the other players asked.

"I'm gairgin' awa," the Scot answered, "playing at the wrong end of the stick. I'll play cards no more than what's on the Sabbath."

Fighting Seabirds.

The penguin, a notable diver among seabirds, was his made by right of conquest, the male birds fighting for the possession of the females. These curious birds have regular duels, where the males, in the shape of combats, in the shape of feathers, is gattered about. In the centre is the victor, clear of all debris. The penguin's feathers and blubber form an efficient shield against their opponents' beaks, so the weapon used is the short flipper, the only wings the birds possess.

The fight begins with the two combatants walking solemnly round each other, waiting for an opportunity to grip. Once this is done the birds come into play and the fighters show or blow after blow upon each other. There is no record as to how the fight ends, but it is a safe supposition to say that they are seldom fatal. The force of the blow from a penguin's flipper is such that three or four of them will draw blood from the human hand.

The Way He Felt About It.

While several young ladies were discussing novel plans for a church bazaar a new member of the committee proposed to have the pastore's photograph reproduced on pillow tops and "chance" then off. All the girls voiced their approval at once, but when the plan was suggested to the parson he objected.

"I really cannot consent," said he. "I've been sat on enough as it is."

Secondhand.

"Can't I go out into the back yard and play in the garden, mamma?" "Certainly not, child. You must stay in and study your nature books." Life.

Widows as Freeman.

Interesting facts regarding the problem of being a freeman of the City of London, he is shown, are brought to light by C. L. Hart Smith. The widows of freemen, he is shown, are themselves by right freemen, and not descendants of a freeman who marries the daughter of a freeman, or who served seven years as an apprentice to a freeman, becomes himself entitled to the freedom of the borough.

AMBUK Correspondents Exciting Adventures

WHAT HE OWES TO ZAM-BUK.

Mr. Frank Scudmore, the great war correspondent, who sent many of the Canadian despatches during the late Boer War, owes his health to Zam-Buk. He has passed unscathed through 39 battles, but a scratch which turned to blood poisoning nearly ended his days. Zam-Buk saved him and he writes as follows:—

"I have proved Zam-Buk such a blessing that I want others to know of its merits. The poisonous dye in some underclothing I was wearing got into a scratch I had sustained and blood-poisoning set in. Inflammation was followed by great pain and swelling, and when sleep broke out on my legs. For some time I could not walk a few steps nor even put my feet to the ground."

"I lay below the knee I had several dressings which caused holes, into which I could put my thumb. On the right leg I had four or five sores. Medical treatment failed to relieve, however, remedies were applied in vain. Weak followed weak and I was heading some of the sores. It was worn out with pain and lack of sleep. On the advice of a friend I obtained some of the previously described medicine. I am now quite cured, and in gratitude, I mention these facts that other sufferers from skin diseases may know of something which will cure them."

Zam-Buk differs entirely from ordinary elements and salves as the above facts clearly show. It will cure skin diseases, ulcers, abscesses, boils, rashes, ringworms, children's sore heads, eczema, etc., etc. It is a specific cure. It also cures itchy skin, head-itching, face-itching, head-ache, etc. Each case, when applied, has a host of little, but it will cure them. It is a sure cure for all skin diseases, all eruptions and sores will get it at a house, or post from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for prices 4 boxes for $1.00.

Millions Unemployed in Britain | Shoe Dealer—Here are a pair of boots that will suit you exactly in your next dash for the pole. How did you like the last pair I sold you?

According to the Manpower Committee of the General Federation of Trade Unions in Great Britain more than 7,000,000 persons are suffering hardship and want on account of hard times. Ten per cent. of the 5,000,000 skilled workers in the country are wholly or partially unemployed. For every skilled worker out of employment two unskilled men are without work. Each idle workman represents, it is estimated, a family of five.

The federation calls upon union men to reduce to the working in any trade or shop which happens to be extra busy. Engineering trade unions, with a membership of 153,201, have 12 per cent. unemployed, while ship-building unions, with a membership of 99,631, have 25 per cent. of their members out of work. Other trades show similar returns.

Thieves Caught

Quick work was shown by Constable Vernon and Constable Tabutea, R.N.W.M.P., Calgary, last week when they caught the man who had the nerve to steal a ton of flour and sugar from some wagons in front of the Alberta Livery barns one night last week. Mr. Vernon started out on the trail of the thieves on the morning the theft was discovered and followed the trail to Warren's church, some miles northwest of town, when he returned to get fresh horses and the Mounted Police, and together they drove out and arrested two men by the name of John Conway and Fred Foy at Conway's house on Thursday afternoon.

The men were brought before C. L. Peterson, J. P., and H. B. Atkins, J. P., on Friday morning last for their preliminary hearing.

Constable Tabutea gave evidence to the effect that he arrived in Didsbury on the 24th in answer to call and went with Constable Vernon west and on the way received information that led them to suspect parties who had been in town the day the stuff was taken. They went west to the big Red Deer river and were satisfied that said parties had not crossed the river and they decided on information received to go back and see Conway who lived about 14 miles northwest of Didsbury. When near his place they found tracks of wagons which had gone in about the time of theft, at an early hour in the morning of the 24th, and found wagons there but no sign of stolen goods. They proceeded to the house and told Conway what they were looking for but he denied knowing anything about it. There were three men in the house, Conway, Foy and R. Mackey, who all denied knowing anything about stolen goods. They told them what they were after and searched the cellar and kitchen where they found six 50 lb. sacks of flour and one sack of sugar. Constable Vernon went outside and searched the premises and found the balance of the flour and sugar, except half a sack which had been spilled when it was taken away from Didsbury, in a straw stack, which was close to the house. Conway told the Mounted Police that he had driven alongside the wagons and loaded his own. Conway and Foy were married to sisters. Conway also told the constable that he was a little full at the time or he would not have stolen the goods.

Constable Vernon then sworn stated that he was called about 7 o'clock of the morning of the 24th and informed of the theft when he immediately took up the case. He found distinct tracks of the wagon and followed them to Conway's ranch where he lost track of them and went as far as the Warren church and found no further tracks and thought he had better return for Mounted Police who had been telephoned for before he left Didsbury. From this on Constable Vernon's evidence was a corroboration of Constable Tabutea's.

R. Mackey, sworn, testified to being in Conway's house on the 23rd and being in the company of Conway and Foy at a sale on the same day when they drove back to Conway's house. Conway left the house about 7:30 taking a black team and a wagon. This was the last he saw of Conway till next morning about 6 o'clock. Foy came to town on horseback, leaving the house after supper and returning the same evening and he and Foy slept together that night. The first time he knew anything about the theft was when the constables arrived.

This ended the hearing. Foy being discharged and Conway was committed to gaol at Calgary to await the spring assizes. On being asked if he had anything to say before he was committed Conway said he had not. Conway has only been married a few months.

Reading Room Matters

TO EDITOR OF PIONEER:

Dear Sir—Your last issue contains an editorial on the reading room with which I am sure we all agree, but you do not go far enough. Perhaps as a member of the old board, you hesitate to condemn the new one.

Now from the standpoint of one who has never served on a library board and who is probably incapable of doing so, but who yet feels at liberty to criticize—I want to ask our new board a few questions. The books are getting pretty well looked over and a good many of us have read most of the best. For many weeks back the librarian has been comforting us with the information that there were new books actually under the roof—When are these books to be catalogued and why on earth have they not been done before? If the board has not time surely there must be enough money somewhere to pay for having it done.

After the concert last fall the impression prevailed that quite enough money had been realized to cover expenses and possibly some left over to buy more books and so ask for another government grant—Now Didsbury has been held up to the whole province as the first town to take advantage of the library act—and we are proud of it. There can be nothing of which to complain in the way of patronage because I understand many people are taking out books.

In these towns which are supported by the surrounding country, a good public library would be a splendid asset especially if some special regulations were made for country people, such as longer time limits and smaller fines, (the fine is too large anyway) and possibly an extra afternoon.

Is it fair anyway to smother an institution which the people want; for that is what is being done—the present board are acting as if they wanted to kill the library or anyway to let it die gently by itself. Wouldn't it be possible to have some place in which the public could register its wish to have a certain book or books on the shelves? In this way some small part of the ordering would be done by the readers themselves.

Perhaps I expect too much of the board and expect it done too quickly at that, and if so I ask its pardon. As I said before I couldn't do it myself, but I would like to see something done—or at least the past work not undone.

Asking your pardon for trespassing in your space.

Yours Sincerely,
READER

No Dyspepsia or Indigestion

Every family here ought to keep some diapsen in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50c case of Pape's Diapsen and take one tri-angule after supper to-night. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heart burn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach. Nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapsen is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if the stomach was not there.

Actual prompt relief for all your stomach misery is for your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50c. cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of dyspepsia or indigestion.

Sunday School Lesson

CONDUCTED BY REV. T. D. JONES

April 4th, 1909.

Correspondence is invited upon any lesson, or points of difficulty. Address to Sunday School, Pioneer Office, Didsbury.

Golden Text, Acts 10: 35.
Lesson, Acts 1: 4-8. "Peter and Cornelius."

(1) Peter is needed by Cornelius. Verses 1 to 8. None of our lives are complete in themselves alone. Other lives enter into them and help in the formation of character. Some enter for evil and some for good. Some help us to our highest expression of life and some do us injury by marring the beauty of our souls. Once in every life there comes a crisis when an influence emanating from some one individual is essential to the life's wellbeing. It is all important at that crucial moment that the very best influence should focus upon the life. In the lesson we have a man Cornelius who was seeking unto God, anxious to know all about Him and His ways of life. There was one soul who had a message of for him, but prejudices had the way of utterance. Cornelius is constrained to send for him. What is it that constitutes holiness before God? Can race, church, or class distinctions, affect it? Why do some members of churches treat members of other churches as inferiors? In your work as a teacher, you are neglecting your sacred duty if you do not encourage the boys and girls to exercise the broadest sympathies, to recognize goodness in whatever life it is expressed.

(2) Peter drawn irresistibly to Cornelius. Verses 9 to 16. Prejudices must go when one gets close to the heart of the Eternal. Gradually Peter sees that God works in every heart and that each unit is His concern. Prayer prepares Peter for a larger service and to this end deepens his love for fellow men. As he gets close to God, he gets close to man. Now Peter's difficulty was that of reconciling an ancient rule with the command of the Holy Spirit in his own soul. Can you explain why there was a difference between the Levitical command to the nation and the command of the Holy Spirit to Peter?

(3) Victory of Prejudices. Verses 17 to 27. Peter is now prepared to recognize Cornelius as a fellow servant of God wherein lie distinctions in the kingdom of God? In race, in denomination, in ceremonial or in the spirit behind the life?

The ancient rules were not adapted to modern life. Verses 28 to 29. Some of the ancient rules tested by the teaching of Jesus are found inadequate. In old times the world came little by little as men opened their minds to understand it. Later civilization found that some of these were unsuited to their needs and herein lay Peter's difficulty.

(4) The ground of acceptance with God is Righteousness, but right thinking and right living? Is righteousness the sole ground of acceptance? What is meant by verse 43? Do you think Cornelius had previously received the Holy Spirit?

Do you know anything of the great controversy which was being waged at the time the incidents in the lesson took place? Paul tells us how that he had to win Paul to the face upon the mission to the gentiles. Do you think Paul was the one to enlighten Peter's mind?

What effect did the victory over prejudice have upon the history of the church?

The Dominion Forest Reserves

The Dominion Forest Reserves are intended to preserve and produce a perpetual supply of timber for the people of the prairie, the homesteaders' need being considered of first importance. They are not intended to furnish wood for the lumber trade. Hence in policy of the department is favorable to small mills rather than to large ones which need large tracts of forest and manufacture lumber beyond the needs of the settlers. In those words Mr. Knechtel, Inspector of Dominion Forest Reserves, defines the objects for which the Dominion Forest reserves are being managed in bulletin No. 3 of the Forestry Branch of the Department of Interior.

Mr. Knechtel gives a list of the reserves, with the dates when they were set aside. The aggregate area of all the Dominion Forest reserves is 16,312½ square miles, divided as follows:

Manitoba (5 reserves)..... 3,575½
Saskatchewan (4 reserves)..... 740
Alberta (5 reserves)..... 9702
British Columbia (10 reserves) 2295

Forest fires furnish perhaps the most serious problem met with in the administration of the reserves. This problem is more serious than in East-timberlands, Mr. Knechtel is convinced. The amount of rainfall and the number of rainy days is much less in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba than in the East. This Mr. Knechtel proves by figures taken from the "weather man's" report, giving these facts for Calgary, Qu'Appelle, Winnipeg and Toronto. Figures prove too, that the wind on the average, blows at twice the rate in Winnipeg than it does in Toronto.

The reserves are under constant patrol summer and winter.

In 1908 only two serious fires occurred on the reserves. Of these one on "The Prince's" reserve, near Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, burned over 22 square miles, but destroyed no valuable timber. The other in the Turtle Mountain reserve, burned over 28 square miles, mostly covered with grass. In both fires however, considerable damage was done to young growth.

Various other methods of protection from fire, such as the burning of fire lines and the planting of fire-guards are also mentioned. Roads across the reserves and along their boundaries are also being constructed, largely with this end in view. One hundred and fifty miles of such roads were made last year.

Grazing on the reserves is another problem that has been considered. This will be allowed under certain restrictions. Why should good grass be allowed to go to waste, the inspector asks? The cattle too will eat up the dense growth of grass and pen vegetation that is found in many places on the reserves. This if dried, would furnish the best kind of fuel for forest fires. Moreover, cattle in going to water, which will act both as a check to the flames and a point from which to backfire.

On many of the reserves large areas have been destroyed by fire. Experiments are being carried on with the reforestation of these. Sowing the seed of trees, rather than the far more expensive planting, is favored.

During 1908 a number of squatters were removed from the Riding Mountain and Turtle Mountain reserves. Despite the delicate nature of the work, those who were removed are so well pleased with the change, that all have made affidavit to the effect that they have been well treated and are well pleased with the change.

The boundaries of the reserves are being marked and timber surveys conducted on them with the object of ascertaining the present amount of timber and the annual growth.

How much timber is there on the reserves? Inspector Knechtel gives an approximate estimate as follows:

On the Manitoba reserves 602,933,000 bd. ft. of saw timber, and 6,250,000 cords of fuel wood.
On the Saskatchewan reserves 55,000,000 bd. ft. of saw timber and 650,000 cords of fuel wood.
On the Alberta reserves 3,402,000,000 bd. ft. of saw timber and 54,220,000 cords of fuel wood.

On British Columbia Reserves

60,000,000 bd. ft. of saw timber, and 6,000,000 cords of fuel wood.

The species of timber growing on the reserves, with their average size and condition are also stated.

The Bulletin gives in full the regulations for homesteaders' permits for cutting on the reserves. Proposed regulations for portable mills (the only kind to be allowed on the reserves) are also given. Regulations similar to these have already been imposed on one mill in the Cypress Hills (Alta.) reserve this winter and have apparently been a success.

A few words are also given to the use of the reserves as pleasure resorts. The Bulletin is illustrated with a number of cut. Copies may be obtained free from R. H. Campbell, Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa, Ont.

New Railways Started in Alberta

Contracts have been let for the construction of 124 miles of new C.P.R. lines in the west. Three of the four new lines are in Alberta and the fourth is headed this way.

Dutton and Tison have the contract for 20 miles west from Weyburn and an additional five miles may be added to their work.

The destination of this extension is Lethbridge. Foley, Welsh and Stewart have the contracts for the other three lines. Starting at Cheadle, just east of Calgary, they will build 40 miles north. A second branch, 28½ miles in length, leaves Kipp on the Blood reserve, south of Lethbridge, and runs north to the Little Bow river. The third section is a branch 35½ miles in length, east from Lacanville.—Free Press.

Provincial Items

A second importation of thoroughbred Percheron horses, was brought in Red Deer by Geo. F. Roo' last week.

A great scare is prevailing through the Red Deer district, due to the spread of rabies among many dogs of this vicinity. The strongest precautions are being taken to insure safety to the public, and to prevent the spread of the disease.

The French steamer Admiral Duport loaded 1,020 tons of Alberta red wheat at the C.P.R. wharf, Vancouver, for Mexico last week. This is the third consignment of Alberta wheat to be shipped out of Vancouver to the Mexican republic.

At a meeting of the retail merchants of Calgary held last week it was decided that they adopt the Saturday half day's holiday for themselves and their clerks.

ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TELLS OF PATENT MEDICINES

A graduate in organic chemistry, who has made a study of many of the best-known patent medicines on the market, states that many have virtue, but as a rule people have to pay for a lot of unnecessary expense. The following is the recipe of a well-known secret preparation, and is known by authority to be one of the best stomach and liver tonics. It is prescribed by many of the best physicians.

This mixture cures constipation and biliousness. The recipe: Fluid Extract Cascara, ¼ oz.; Compound Syrup Rhubarb, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract Carriana Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 5 oz. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

An eminent authority, who has made a careful and scientific study of the relative value of drugs having a specific action on the kidneys, bladder and liver, pronounces this an excellent combination.

You can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home. Cut this formula out and save it.

This balm is, without any doubt, the best healer on the market, being a liquid, it also makes a splendid gall cure for horses' shoulders and is better than salve. The salve gathers a lot of dirt on the face of the horse collar and is inclined to hurt the shoulder unless watched very closely.

To Employers of Labor

Farmers or manufacturers who will be requiring help of any kind will do well to correspond with the Toronto Free Employment Bureau, 71, Victoria Street, Toronto, an institution operated for the benefit of the farmers and manufacturers, as well as for men seeking work, where one can apply and secure the help required without cost.

They can arrange for any kind of a man that is required. Particular care is taken with each case in order to secure the man best suited for the position offered. In this way better satisfaction will be had by those wishing to secure help, and it is quite easy to see that it will be a great benefit to all concerned.

We take pleasure in announcing that such an institution is being operated in Toronto, as considerable dissatisfaction has been felt in the past, owing to the systems at present used in supplying men for the Western Provinces.

Easily Mixed Kidney Recipe

What will appear very interesting to many here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, which is said to be a positive remedy for backache or kidney derangement, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Danielson, one-half ounce; Compound Rhubarb, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well known druggist here at home when asked regarding this prescription stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up packed to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic affections with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

An Open Season For Editors of Dominion

Toronto, March 26th.—An open season for editors as a cure for some of the disabilities under which Canadian newspapers suffer in regard to the law of libel was advocated by Provincial Secretary Hanna at the annual dinner of the Canadian Press Association last night. As a matter of fact, Mr. Hanna said, the Ontario government was going to pass a law which would be a simple remedy for all the editors' troubles. For one week in the year they would have an open season, when the editors could say just what they liked about everybody. Thanksgivng week is suggested as a suitable date.—Calgary News.

Rod and Gun

SPRING FISHING NUMBER

The first sight of the fine cover of the excellent Spring, (April) Fishing Number of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., will stir the blood of the thousands of fishermen throughout the dominion and start them on the congenial work of preparing for the coming fray. Three articles stand out as of value to the country:—"Preserving the Nation's Fish," by Cyrus McMillan, an illustrated descriptive account of the work of the Prince Edward Island hatchery; "The Unsolved Mystery of the Salmon," by Bonnycastle Dale, who has spent two years on the Pacific Coast studying the ways of the salmon and, with the exception of one point, leaving the mystery still unsolved; and "Conservation of Non-Nest Building Fisheries of the Great Lakes," by W. E. Meenn, Chief Fish Commissioner for Pennsylvania, in which a plea is put forward on behalf of a policy on which there will be great differences of opinion but which closely concerns the future of the Great Lakes fisheries. Then fishing trips in four separate provinces are told in a manner irresistibly reminding fishermen of incidents in their own experiences. "A New Brunswick Lost Lake Gound," is particularly good though each story has an interest all its own. A similar variety of fare will be found for those interested in other forms of sport, "A Lady's Moose Hunt in New Brunswick," by Miss Enjagh being a good specimen. On every page of an excellent number the sportsman will be able to find material which cannot fail to prove of the deepest possible interest to him.
